

A SCHOOL REPORT

Mrs. Veena Ramball
Principal

The role of education is to bring about a new vision and a new heart-this is possible only when there is fundamental change in values. whatever form our education may take, it has to be value-based. Not that there are no values in today's education. But the need is that, students should try to learn to get and fix their priorities right and clarify their values and beliefs when these are in conflict with another set of values. They need the grit to uphold these values when challenged by others. There is a dire need to strengthen inter religious and inter-communal ties among our students.

Keeping this in view the foundation IPS was laid in the year 2003 in Amravati by our Dynamic Director Hon'ble Ayushree Deshmukh and futurist and creative thinker Hon'ble Ashish Deshmukh together with their team of enthusiastic and devoted Principals, Co-ordinators, staff Parents & Social Workers of Amravati.

Without any aid from the government, without any financial (backing) support what so ever we have trudged ahead over the years. Through rain and shine, through thick and thin we have woven our path with the sole aim of providing good quality education, a character-building atmosphere and above all, making things and services available which were not easily available there. Our children are soul of our school and when we see the smile on their faces, the sparkle in their eyes, their glow on their visage- we know we are heading towards our aim.

The school as an enormous potential to help the students to meet the challenges of life. The type of education, which IPS strives to promote, aims at developing in its students an awareness of their rights and duties as members of the human family. It helps them to take their place in society, since it teaches young boys and girls of different social, cultural and religious background to live together in the spirit of togetherness and sharing so that in the world of tomorrow; they may be better than the best.

Here we lay emphasis not only on academic excellence; but also on inculcation of high values; physical development and honing the creativity of students. Thus to Amravati and no doubt to the whole country, we are contributing at large, turning them into responsible and useful citizens of the future.

The beautiful campus and buildings, amidst on an extensive lush green setting has been dressed up to provide a unique abode for the scholars. Here, away from the anxieties of city life, a child can find the necessary space and encouragements to grow fully into a young adult with the feeling of self worth and pride. The school endeavours to impart the modern education to prepare the students for the fast changing present world, suffused with the scientific and technological advancement, and at the same time based on ancient Indian heritage and philosophy.

Academic excellence with character, and personality development is our ultimate object. The well chalked out academic and co-curricular programme enables the students to attain their full potential to develop sound work habits. The academic work is centered on highly personalized attention and supervision.

Along with all these activities our students have held the flag of IPS high in many fields, whether it is Scholastic or Non-Scholastic Activities and have brought laurels to school.

Recently we hosted the Inter School Sports Competition and we were held in high esteem by different coaches and managers of various schools. Thus we can rightly say that in IPS, children feel quite at home. To them this is a unique home away from their real home where children are treated with tender love. Our children are bold enough and respond spontaneously. They are confident enough to face the challenges of the changing world.

Despite several achievements we still feel that there are many milestones.

The glorious achievements of IPS now hardly needs any collaboration because a tree is known by its fruit.

Woods are lovely dark and deep
But I have promises to keep
Miles to go before I sleep
And miles to go before I sleep.

Autobiography of my school building

Pradhnya Khobragade

Hello...!

Do you know who am I? Let me introduce my self. I am the building of Indo Public School. I always feel proud to be the building of Indo Public School.

When I was completed, I was inaugurated by member of Raj Sabha Ms. Hema Malini in the presence of Governor of Bihar Mr. R.S. Gawai and Guardian Minister Dr. Sunil Deshmukh. Amravati people who are related to me were very happy to see me standing so proudly. Because of me so many children got good education and became civilized people.

Right now I am made of three floors. At ground floor, I have A.V. Hall, computer room, Art & Craft room and other activity room like Yoga, Dance etc. and how can I forget the Library in which lots of books are provided to the students to explore their knowledge. The Librarian is always taking care of it. In the heart of the school is principal's office which is situated on this floor. Mrs. Veena Ramball is the principal of this school who takes great care of this school. She is putting her best efforts to maintain it with the help of vice principal Mrs. Sweta Paithankar and Administrative staff as well as teachers.

On my second floor there is a chain of shelk which I call a classroom which so many students like pearls get knowledge not only academics but also physical education by the help of great teachers in my premises to develop, build and nourish them in over all manners.

I am always proud to have Director's office on this floor, of a dynamic personality who is the founder of this school Mrs. Ayushree Deshmukh who took great pains to develop a seed into a plant whose fruits are seen today and will blossom in the future.

On my top floor, the office of the Vice Principal and Head of the school is situated along with physics, chemistry and biology laboratory. There are classes from 5th to 10th which are fulfilled by latest technology like E-Patshala, I-discover-I and many more things which makes me unique and more beautiful than others, which will touch the maximum limits in the sky.

To add beauty to my building, I have a huge, lovely play ground in front of me with Tennis and Basket ball synthetic court. Swimming pool is also my major attraction.

I feel very happy when I see the children studying in the classrooms and learn extra curricular activities. All these things make me happy.

Many students have passed before me, but they still remember the sweet moments which they enjoyed with me. I am thankful to God and care takers who have taken great pains and trouble in building a beautiful institution like me.

Sports in our Life

Nilesh S. Aware

Sports are an important part of just about every society, every country and every part of our planet. In some way or the other, everyone is involved in sports of some sort, whether they are playing or watching or anything else. Sports are played for fun or for money or sometimes both. Just about every sport has both professionals and amateurs. Sports bring people together and also set people apart. Sport is commonly defined as an organized, competitive and skillful physical activity requiring commitment and fair play. Games of skill and motor sport both exhibit many of the characteristics of physical sports, such as skill, sportsmanship and at the highest levels, even professional sponsorship associated with physical sports. In this way sports is greatly beneficial in our life. But today we realise that sports is not getting the importance it should because life has become so busy and competitive.

Children have to be encouraged and supported to get involved in some kind of sport because studies and physical activity are like two sides of a coin.
